The Tinney Tradition...

Since the early 1980s, Tinney Farms has been a mainstay in the breed. Our goal has been to produce the highest quality breeding stock that can perform in the show ring as well as the pasture, thus producing more National Champions than any other breeder and winning numerous performance-based awards. Tinney Farms has always stood behind our product and will continue to do so. Tinney Farms genetics can be found in many of the top herds across the country and our genetics will continue to play an important role in the Santa Gertrudis breed.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

By John Ford

(361) 592-9357 | jford@santagertrudis.com

Ahh...the benefits of membership. If you have a particular credit card, the benefit is additional airline miles – or so we are told on the television commercials. The benefit of membership in a certain farm organization is a price reduction when purchasing a new pick-up. I have belonged to a number of groups and organizations that entitled me to discounted rates at motels or restaurants. It has become commonplace for organizations and associations to utilize deals, offers and discounts to entice individuals to join. Certainly these types of perks are alluring and provide some value to an organization's membership. However, I think that the benefits of membership in an organization should have greater value than a discount on a plate of eggs with pancakes on the side or a free night in a chain motel. In my opinion, the benefit of membership in an organization has more to do with the big picture than short term personal gain.

So, in big picture terms, what are the benefits of being a member of SGBI? A benefit of membership is the knowledge that's available to members through a number of learning opportunities including the monthly columns with a production focus that appear in Santa Gertrudis USA. There is no doubt that increased knowledge assists members in remaining current in a rapidly changing industry. A benefit of membership is access to the technology needed in order to remain competitive in an increasingly competitive industry. Whether the technology is genetic, web-based or another type, it is designed to improve the breed and strengthen marketing opportunities. A benefit of membership is the positive message the association provides to key industry players. Contacts with industry movers and shakers as well as university and research personnel have a long term effect on the breed's standing in the industry. A positive comment by influential industry leaders can skyrocket a breed to the forefront, while a negative comment can push a breed out of the industry picture. A benefit of membership is access to cutting edge research that is designed to increase demand for Santa Gertrudis genetics by adding value in the commercial sector. A prime example of this type of activity is the current genotyping research project being funded by the Santa Gertrudis Foundation. Once completed, SGBI will have the data available to incorporate the most current genetic technology into the breed's animal selection toolbox. I could continue, but I'll stop with one more key benefit of membership: the ability to multiply the effort of one by the efforts of hundreds in order to accomplish a common goal.

No, SGBI does not offer a free night's stay in a popular motel or a free side of pancakes with an order of eggs for renewing membership on an annual basis. What SGBI does offer members are the tools needed to be profitable and sustainable in a quickly changing industry. Membership does have its privileges. 🍴

SGBI ANSWERS YOUR

Questions

By John Ford, Executive Director

Q. Can registration numbers be made shorter?

A. October is the first anniversary of pedigree services returning to the Kingsville, Texas, headquarters. Work continues with Livestock Genetic Services (LGS) adjusting and fine-tuning the pedigree program. Recently, SGBI staff and LGS personnel met and discussed membership recommended changes for pedigree service. Members have asked that the year date included in an animal's registration number be eliminated. As the new program was being developed, the addition of the year date as the first four digits made sense from a database management and clerical standpoint. However, this long registration number has caused problems for membership. LGS will be addressing this issue and adjustments are being made in the computer program to shorten the registration number. Members have also asked that the National Champion designations be added back to the pedigrees. Unfortunately, these designations were dropped during the breed's time with the American Beef Records Association, and weren't included in the database when returned to SGBI. Discussions have been held with LGS to insure that future National Champions will receive the recognition deserved on the breed's registration certificates. 🍴

Are you looking for replacement heifers that:

1. Adapt to extreme weather?
2. Have performance records in their pedigrees?
3. Are clean?
4. Are fertile?
5. Have eye appeal?
6. Have good udders?
7. Are registered under SGBI Breed Standards Guidelines?
8. Come from a single sire pasture?

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

By Curtis Salter

(850) 957-4409 | salterfarms@att.net

My wife Carol just remodeled our office/den. When she finished I saw she had put some pictures on the wall of the first four Santa Gertrudis cows we bought in the early 1980s. Looking at those pictures got me to thinking about the cow business back then. There were a lot of Santa Gertrudis cows around back then and they were high-priced. The average poor man like me could hardly afford them. I wanted some so bad it hurt. You could find cows back then, but you paid big money for them if you got them. Carol, looking at the pictures, said, "That's how it all began."

Then I got to thinking about the last 30 years: how we have grown, how the cattle business has changed, how SGBI has changed. Now there's more beef being produced with less cows, less land and less people. For a while in the past, Santa Gertrudis cows didn't bring good money. Now, with some promotion and changes, they're bringing good money again. Think about how blessed we are to own Santa Gertrudis.

In recent years, beef producers have been persuaded to put more attention on a black hide than on tenderness, marbling, growth rate and taste. Now, once again, we have people talking about our cattle. Commercial cattlemen are talking about how their parents used Santa Gertrudis bulls on commercial cows, and about how small the calves were at birth, how well they grew, how tender the meat was and how good it tasted. They're talking about how good the mothering abilities are in our mama cows. They understand how good our cows are and how well our bulls work on crossbred cows. The market is coming back, we just have to meet the demand.

The time is ours. We have a great product. We have a good association that will help you in any way possible. John Ford and Diana Ruiz are some of the best people in the world to work with. We have good people in this breed, and we are so blessed to be in the Santa Gertrudis family. Tell the world about what we have, and they'll want it, too.

If I, as your president, or any of your vice presidents, members of the board of directors, or SGBI staff can help you in any way, don't hesitate to call.

Until next time, God bless.

WHAT ARE $\beta$ -AGONISTS?

By Randy L. Stanko, Ph.D. | Texas A&M University-Kingsville

You may have recently read beef news articles discussing the suspension of a feed additive called Zilmax™ due to potential health problems for some cattle. This feed additive belongs to a class of molecules known as  $\beta$ -agonists. The adrenal glands (we all have two) normally secrete two hormones collectively called catecholamines: epinephrine and norepinephrine. These two hormones have many different physiological functions throughout the body – most notably the mammalian “fight or flight” response when we are scared or anxious. To affect this life or death response, nerves stimulate the adrenal gland to secrete massive amounts of epinephrine. However, when mammals are at rest they also secrete epinephrine to help maintain normal physiological function. For the catecholamines to affect specific cells, those affected cells must have receptors that will recognize these molecules. There are two types of catecholamine receptors:  $\alpha$  and  $\beta$ . In most instances  $\alpha$  receptors tell the cell not to do something and  $\beta$  receptors stimulate the cell. These same receptors are also often called adrenergic receptors. Any molecule designed by man to be only recognized by a  $\beta$  receptor found on specific cells is classified as a  $\beta$ -adrenergic agonist ( $\beta$ -agonist).

$\beta$ -adrenergic agonists are potent growth promoters in many species of animals including swine, cattle and sheep. The main effects include increased muscle mass and a large reduction in body fat content.  $\beta$ -adrenergic agonists influence energy, carbohydrate, lipid and protein metabolism. In 1987, lambs fed a  $\beta$ -adrenergic agonist for two months showed an increase of 20 to 40 percent in the weights of several muscles compared to lambs fed a control diet (Kim et al.). The muscle growth in response to  $\beta$ -agonist treatment appears to be a true increase in muscle cell size (hypertrophy).  $\beta$ -agonist-induced hypertrophy is specific to skeletal muscle and does not affect the heart or smooth muscles found in the digestive and reproductive systems.

$\beta$ -adrenergic agonists for beef cattle have been available since 2004 and, unlike ear implants that are natural and synthetic steroids, don't affect the hormone status of the animal. The two products that historically have been fed to feedyard cattle are Zilmax™ (since 2007) and Optaflexx™. Optaflexx™ contains the  $\beta$ -agonist ractopamine hydrochloride, which is the same compound found in Paylean™, a product labeled for swine. Zilmax™ contains the  $\beta$ -agonist zilpaterol hydro-chloride, a slightly more potent compound. Optaflexx™ has no withdrawal period and Zilmax™ has a 3-day withdrawal period. Both feed additives are labeled to be fed during, approximately, the last 20 to 40 days of the feeding period when cattle tend to be the least efficient, and are mostly putting on body fat. Both products increase average daily gain (9 to 40 percent), feed efficiency, hot carcass weight (10 to 28 pounds) and ribeye area (0.3 to 1.0 square inches). Optaflexx™ has minimal impact on marbling and tenderness, whereas Zilmax™ may slightly affect both. Following hundreds of studies, both products have been approved by 28 regulatory bodies, including the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and World Health Organization. Moreover, the U.S. Food Safety and Inspection Service routinely tests beef to ensure its safety. According to industry estimates, about 70 percent of cattle harvested in the U.S. are fed  $\beta$ -agonists. Using some rough figures, the U.S. harvested about 2.7 million head of cattle last year; 2.7 million x 70 percent x 30 pounds/carcass is approximately 57 million less pounds of beef to market and consume without the use of  $\beta$ -adrenergic agonists.

If you prefer beef from cattle not fed a  $\beta$ -agonist, there are plenty of U.S. Department of Agriculture organic or “naturally-raised” branded options at the local grocery store. Regardless, we should all be confident that U.S. beef is safe and is still delicious and nutritious as always.

SANTA GERTRUDIS Juniors

By Zach Riley, NJSGA District 1 Director

My name is Zach Riley. I'm from East Bernard, Texas, and am a senior at East Bernard High School. I'm a District 1 director from the Mid-Coast affiliate for the National Jr. Santa Gertrudis Association (NJSGA). I have served as treasurer and reporter of my FFA chapter. I'm currently the president of my 4-H club.

I have also served as secretary for the Mid-Coast junior board. I have been showing Santa Gertrudis cattle for six years. I hope everyone had a great start to the beginning of the new school year.

I would like to say a big thank you to everyone that has supported the NJSGA throughout the years. Without your help and support our association would not be the success it is today.

It's October and we are kicking off the show season with the State Fair of Texas. Make sure you have your entries in on time for the Texas majors. Entry deadline for the Fort Worth Stock Show junior and open show, which is also doubling as the National Santa Gertrudis Show this year, is Nov. 15. The Houston, San Antonio, and Austin deadlines are Dec. 1. Also, if you haven't already done so, you need to get your Quality Counts certificate. If you have taken the junior test and are now 14 years old, you will have to take the senior test.

Entry deadline for the Fort Worth Stock Show junior and open show, which is also doubling as the National Santa Gertrudis Show this year, is Nov. 15. The Houston, San Antonio, and Austin deadlines are Dec. 1.

Remember, if any of you need any help at all during any of the stock shows, a director is never too far away. I look forward to seeing everyone this year, and good luck! 🍀

Correction to 2013 NJSGHS Donated Heifers Listing

In addition to the other generous breeders who donated heifers to the class winners of National Junior Santa Gertrudis Heifer Show, huge thanks goes out to Helen Groves, Silverbrook Ranches, Baird, Texas, for her support of the junior program. 🍀

NATIONALS

June is junior nationals month, and junior members come together to compete in purebred and Star 5 divisions, and leadership contests like public speaking, cattle judging, photography and more. Unique to the breed, Santa Gertrudis breeders donate 20 heifers to the show, one for each class winner in the purebred show and one for the Star 5 champion. At next year's junior nationals, the donated heifers compete for a championship. The week-long event ends with a formal awards banquet.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Annually, the National Santa Gertrudis Youth Foundation awards approximately $30,000 in scholarships to high school seniors. Deserving youth vie for scholarships, and are recognized for their accomplishments at junior nationals.

GOALS

Held every other year for intermediates and seniors, the Gerts Ongoing Advanced Leadership Summit is a camp full of activities and workshops to aid junior Santa Gertrudis members in becoming effective, compassionate and influential leaders.

SANTA GERTRUDIS BREEDERS INTERNATIONAL

Santa Gertrudis Breeders International (SGBI) was organized in 1951 for the following purposes:

- To continue the improvement of Santa Gertrudis cattle throughout the world
- To work for the standardization of the breed by the maintenance of the "Standard of Excellence"
- To protect the breed from misrepresentation
- To establish a practical registry
- To disseminate information and to market, merchandise and promote the breed

Membership in SGBI is open to anyone who is interested in Santa Gertrudis cattle and in the purposes of the Association.

Types of Membership

An Active member is an individual, partnership, corporation or firm that, once approved for membership, is entitled to one vote at meetings of the general membership and may obtain all services of the Association at the member rates.

A Junior member is a young man or woman, under the age of 21 years, who may obtain all services of the Association at the same rates as active members, but is not entitled to vote at general meetings.

A Commercial member receives the official publication of SGBI and all communication that the SGBI office provides. They are entitled to record Star 5 animals and are encouraged to participate in SGBI STAR 5 marketing events.

Procedures for Joining

This application form should be fully completed and returned to SGBI with a check in the amount of the membership fee. The new member will receive a membership packet showing the herd number assigned by the association. The new member is then entitled to all of the privileges offered by SGBI for that level of membership. The fiscal year of the Association is April 1 through March 31. Membership is renewable at the beginning of each fiscal year.

santa Gertrudis Photo Contest

Congratulations to Linda Caughron, Mountain View Farm, Walland, Tenn., for submitting this month's winning photograph she calls "A Mother's Love."

Pictures need to be high resolution for print in the magazine, so be sure to set your camera appropriately.

Please email photos to kbedolli@blueprintma.com. You might just see it in an upcoming issue!

*Your Source for the "Original" Santa
Gertrudis Genetics*

Established 1853

When building a program you must start with a solid foundation. Whether you are breeding seed stock cattle or commercial animals, you need to start with a quality product that will turn a profit. King Ranch purebred Santa Gertrudis and Santa Gertrudis-influenced genetics can provide just that. Our cattle were derived from the need for performance in feed yards and breeding programs, which means they must be fertile, efficient and profitable. The combination of Brahman and Shorthorn genetics have formed a cross that is hardy and effective in a wide range of climates and conditions. The King Ranch, where it all began.
